A close relative of mine read in a book written by Mawlana Kinoo that it is not recommended for a couple to have conjugal relations on the 1st, 15th and last night of an Islamic month since on these days the devils have permission to have sexual intercourse.

Can you please elaborate on this issue?

Walaikum Salaam Wr Wb

As per Shariah Law there are 2 times of Sexual Intercourse:

- (1) Normal Time
- (2) Specific Time

Normal time means after Nikah when ever a person want to have sexual intercourse, so he has the permission except when the wife is her menstruation period.

Specific time divide into two sessions:

- (1) Best moment to have sexual intercourse
- (2) Moment to not have it.

The best time to have sexual intercourse in on Thursday Night and the time to not have it is the dates you have mentioned in your question.

By the way, it is not prohibited, if ever a person desires to have sexual intercourse on those days, so he has the full right.

Jazaakallah
